

Tré Thomas

TRÉ THOMAS has launched a music movement that will further break down the walls separating gospel and secular music. He infuses his fresh R&B sensibilities with messages that address real-life issues and reaffirm the fact that God cares, understands and loves us all unconditionally—with a love that the walls of the church cannot confine.

Building on the success of the singles "Temptation" and "Guess What?," Tré Thomas released his debut, full-length project, "A Natural Contrast," November 4, 2008.

Born in New Orleans, Louisiana, Tré realized his passion for music at a very early age. Although he grew up in church, R&B has always been his musical frame of reference. It's his desire to stay true to what he knows artistically without overshadowing the message in his music. That goal has led him on a musical journey rich in experience afforded by opportunities in the Washington, DC Metropolitan area. Currently a member of Metropolitan Baptist Church (H. Beecher Hicks, Jr., Pastor), Tré has held membership in Daniel Austin & Divine Adoration, Charles Butler & Trinity, as well as the Howard Gospel Choir of Howard University; served as musical director, assistant to the minister of music, psalmist and worship leader at Carolina Missionary Baptist Church (Anthony E. Moore, Pastor); and sung background for Maurette Brown-Clark, Ted & Sheri, DeWayne Woods, Lecresia Campbell and Lucinda Moore.

Tré counts among his greatest musical mentors the world-renowned Richard Smallwood, and was featured on his 2007 project, "Journey-Live in New York," which debuted at no. 1 on Billboard's Gospel chart. Tré has been featured at Ashford & Simpson's Sugar Bar (New York, NY), Bohemian Caverns (Washington, DC), Busboys & Poets (Washington, DC), Washington DC's Black Family Reunion, The Hawkins' Music & Arts Love Fellowship Conference (Oakland, CA), the NIKE/Lebron James "More Than A Game" Promo Tour (Washington, DC), the Bonnerfide Radio Launch Party (Nashville, TN), as well as the Spirit of Washington and the Spirit of Philadelphia cruise liners. He exudes a minimalist style, and his honest, warm vocal tones pay a befitting homage to his myriad musical influences—Donny Hathaway, Luther Vandross, Brandy, Carl Thomas Tweet, Musiq Soulchild and Donald Lawrence.

Through his movement, Tré conveys that it is okay to be current and different without compromising loving God and having an effective message to share with the WORLD.
